Harry Roberts In Favor Of New Judicial District

Harry W. (Jack) Roberts, Jr., a Hickman County attorney and chairman of the Judicial Committee of the First District Bar Association, took issue with a statement in the News last week, wherein an unidentified source stated that a proposal to create a new Judicial District for Graves County only was a "political maneuver."

Roberts, a former Commonwealth attorney in the First Judicial District, who was defeated in his bid for reelection to that post by L. M. (Tip) Reed of Mayfield, denies that the bill introduced by Senator George Brand of Mayfield and Senator Tom Garrett is politically inspired.

In a telephone conversation, the editor of the News asked Mr. Roberts to set forth any and all facts at his disposal that would indicate the necessity for creation of a new Judicial District for Graves County only.

(While Mr. Roberts refutes the statement made by the News that the new district would cost $140,000.00 for a six-year period, the facts are that a new judgeship would cost $14,900.00 a year for six years, a total of $89,400.00.)

(Although the $60,000 annual salary of an additional Commonwealth attorney is paid from fees paid by litigants, the salary and expenses of the circuit judge and commonwealth attorney are guaranteed by the State of Kentucky.)

(Therefore the six-year salary of the Circuit Judge ($89,400.00) plus the six-year salary of the Commonwealth attorney ($36,000.00) leaves a total of $125,400.00, for expenses for two officials; a total of $1300 per year, per official, for the six-year term.

Here is Mr. Roberts' letter:

Gentlemen:

For the past three years, the lawyers of the First Judicial District have worked diligently to correct what we believe to be a deplorable condition which exists in the case load of the First Judicial District. We have sought to present our problem before the Judicial Council. The Council is not disposed to hear us. We have presented the problem to the Governor. He refuses to intercede one way or the other. Every person that we have been able to present the true picture of the case load in this District has been impressed by the justice of our cause. To be perfectly frank with you gentlemen, we did not believe that you or the people were sufficiently concerned with the conditions of the Court to be interested in one way or the other, therefore, we have been trying to remedy the situation in the best way that we knew how, with as little fuss and confusion as possible. Perhaps we were mistaken in this idea. In any event, the news story carried by the Fulton County News, in response to the inquiry of Mr. Henry Maddox, Representative of the First District, makes it apparent that you should be acquainted with the true circumstances as they exist.

New Judgeship Meets Opposition

Statistical Report Of Four Judicial Districts

District	Population	Cases Filed	Cases Pending
1 - Fulton, Hickman Carlisle, Ballard Graves	61,923	1963-64 695 1964-65 675	629 660
2 - McCracken	57,306	1963-64 838 1964-65 799	1184 1495

4 - Caldwell, Crittenden and Hopkins	60,417	1963-64 625 1964-65 700	2081 2332

This information secured from a report from the Kentucky Judicial Council to the General Assembly.

State Representative Henry Maddox advised the News on Monday that many of his constituents oppose any legislation to create a new Judicial District for Graves County.

Mr. Maddox said that his decision on the matter will probably be influenced by the overwhelming response received from his constituents against Senate Bill 158, introduced by Senator George Brand of Mayfield and Senator Tom Garrett of Paducah, which seeks to establish the 50th Judicial District, composed only of Graves County.

The Hickman legislator, who represents Fulton, Hickman, Carlisle and Ballard counties said that a careful study of other Judicial Districts in the State, whose characteristics are similar to those of the First Legislative District (Fulton, Hickman, Carlisle, Ballard and Graves counties) reveals that the necessity for creating a new Judicial District in far western Kentucky is no greater than that in other judicial districts in the First Congressional District. (See tabulation on this page.)

Comparing the Second Judicial District, which includes the City of Paducah, and the Fourth Judicial District which includes the City of Madisonville, with the First Judicial District, whose largest city is Mayfield, the case load is growing in the second and fourth, while it is decreasing slightly in the first.

The Third Judicial District, which includes the City of Hopkinsville, has the largest population, filed the largest number of cases, dispensed with the largest number of cases, and has the smallest number of cases pending than any of the other three districts.

Mr. Maddox revealed that except for two or three letters received through Monday from lawyers seeking the new district, all other mail strongly opposed the proposal. Mr. Maddox wrote to newspapers in his district asking his constituents to express their views on the creation of another Judicial

South Fulton Sets Aside $25,000 To Attract Industry; Fluoridates Water

A resolution setting aside $25,000 in surplus funds for a "special fund to attract industry to South Fulton" was adopted by the South Fulton City Commission at its meeting Tuesday night.

While no specific expenditure is planned at the present, the resolution was adopted to "give notice of intention and intent" to any prospective industry interested in South Fulton that the community stands ready and willing to provide any assistance it can, members of the Commission stated.

The Commission also voted to explore the possibilities of obtaining a federal grant for the building of a community center for South Fulton. The proposed center would include a large central area for accommodating large gatherings, plus a number of smaller areas that might be used for such as Scout meetings, a youth center, and the like, City Manager Henry Dunn stated.

The Commission was advised that a grant for up to 2-3 of the cost of the center may be possible through the Neighborhood Facilities program of the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development.

The City of South Fulton already owns property suitable for such a center.

First step in the program will be engagement of an architect to draw plans and arrive at the cost, followed by submission of a checklist of eligibility and feasibility to NFP.

Coffee Day At Cafes For Heart Drive

A statewide "Coffee Day" among Kentucky's 5,000 eating establishments, sponsored by the Kentucky Restaurant Association for the benefit of the Heart Fund, is scheduled for Tuesday, March 1.

Don Eckard, KRA executive vice-president, said the association's 3,500 members and the other 1,500 restaurants throughout the state are being urged to donate their proceeds that day from coffee sales "to the fight against heart disease, our number one killer."

J. O. Matlick, state commissioner of Natural Resources, who is 1966 campaign chairman for the Heart Fund in Kentucky, said he hoped that "all who can do so will cooperate with the restaurant association in supporting the Heart Fund's drive to continue its vital program of research, health education and community service."

South Fulton children will have fewer dental cavities, develop in the future.

The South Fulton Commission voted Tuesday night to add fluoridation equipment to the city water system, and the Tennessee Department of Health will pay half of the installation cost, City Manager Henry Dunn told The News Wednesday. Total cost of equipment will be around $1600, and South Fulton will only have to foot half of the bill.

Once installed—and the whole thing will be quite simple—the fluoridation of city water will cost just a few cents per family per year, yet the simple addition of a little harmless, tasteless, odorless, colorless fluoride will reduce dental cavities in the teeth of growing children by an amazing percentage, Department of Health statistics prove.

Hundreds of progressive communities that have added minute quantities of fluoride to their water with the endorsement of the Department of Health have reported outstanding results with the program.

Rural Paint-Up, Clean-Up Campaign Now Underway, Cooperation Urged

"Paint-Up, Clean-Up, Fix-Up" time is here in all rural areas, the Fulton County Sanitarians office announced this week.

The rural campaign to "spruce up for Spring" has gotten underway a couple of months ahead of the city campaigns because farmers and farm families have more time on their hands now to do these things, stated Harry Barry, Fulton County sanitarian. "By the time the Clean-Up campaigns get underway in Fulton and Hickman, farm families are too busy with spring planting to participate, and that's the reason we have begun the rural campaign at this time," he stated.

Farm families are requested to co-operate in the campaign by cleaning up their yards and areas around the house, beautifying out-buildings, repairing unsightly structures and tearing down these that are unwanted. The sanitarian also warns that dumping of cans or refuse along roadsides is prohibited, and that, insofar as possible, these dumping sites will be cleaned up.

"Clean-Up and Fix-Up on the farm is even more valuable a campaign than it is in the city," Mr. Barry pointed out. "While in the city, the purpose may be beautification, on the farm the campaign serves to reduce accident hazards, prolong the life of buildings with a little simple maintenance, and reduce fire hazards, besides beautification," he added.

Her condition has been described as satisfactory, and plans are being made to return her to Fulton in a week or so.

Brand, Maddox Record Is Reviewed As Session Nears End

At the close of the thirty-seventh legislative day of the Kentucky General Assembly on February 18, 201 bills had been introduced in the Senate and 418 bills had been introduced in the House of Representatives. Out of a total of 619 bills introduced in both houses, only four of them have been signed into law by Governor Edward T. Breathitt.

Senator George Brand of Mayfield, representing Fulton, Hickman, Carlisle, Graves and Marshall counties has introduced only two bills, both in collaboration with other senators. One of them is SB 138, which proposes to create a new judicial district for Graves County only. The other, SB 161 introduced in collaboration with 26 other Senators, proposes that the amended constitution be placed on the ballot on November 8, 1966 to be ratified by the voters.

Meanwhile Representative Henry Maddox of Hickman, who represents Fulton, Hickman, Carlisle and Ballard counties has been busier, having introduced seven bills, and three resolutions also in collaboration with other representatives.

Two bills presented by Mr. Maddox deal with educational problems; one of them to have the superintendents of education elected rather than appointed.

Another seeks to create the position of a district detective at an annual salary of $4800.00 a year. Mr. Maddox was also one of the co-signers of HB32, granting an expense account of $150 a month to members of the General Assembly when not in session.

The House has approved the bill by a vote of 53 to 29 and sent to the Senate. Assuming that there are no special sessions, the increase would mean an additional $2,775 to each representative during the remainder of his two-year term. Total cost to the State for the 1966-68 biennium has been estimated at $430,000.00.

"It's not an administration bill and I am not supporting it," Governor Breathitt said.

Within the next several days, all bills introduced, and not yet acted upon will be undertaken by the committee on committees, which during the last 15 days of the session has the power to either pass or kill any legislation thus far introduced.

Here is the subject and the status of the bills introduced thus far by Senator Brand and Representative Maddox.

January 18 - to Legislative Affairs (Continued on Page Eight)

One thing is for sure... it won't be many more months, before the twin cities have a community center... either on the Kentucky or the Tennessee side, and it looks perhaps like both. Last week and this week we made some inroads into planning for our Latin-American Friendship Center. Meanwhile South Fulton is seeking to build, what is planned as a smaller center, for a Youth Center, recreation center, etc. As Chairman of the Fulton Civic Center Authority, South Fulton City Manager Henry Dunn, Fulton City Manager Rollin Shaw and I are keeping "clued in" with our respective progress.

Hitting at the project from two States is bound to bring us success before long.

Speaking of my efforts reminds me of a funny incident that happened during a long distance telephone call with a high Washington official concerning a grant to build our civic center.

After plying him with a barrage of questions on how to get the grant, and badgering him with the information that money was available under this authority and that Agency, the harried gent said: "I know the money is there, Jo, I just don't know enough about the regulations yet to tell you how we can give it to you."

Poor Annabelle Edwards. She's worked in the newspaper business long enough now to shrug off any kind of unusual happenings.

Wednesday Paul and I both complained at different times to feeling something below par. When Annabelle asked me what my ailment was I said casually, "don't ever mix shrimp and grasshoppers." With that I turned and went into my office, with other things on my mind. I thought Annabelle gave me a shocked look, but I paid it no mind.

Later when I complained some more, Annabelle said, "Why would anybody eat grasshoppers?"

Well, I felt better just getting a good laugh out of her remark. We didn't EAT grasshoppers, (although I have seen some of them sold as delicacies in some of these odd stores that sell odd food)... WE DRANK THEM.

Tuesday night we went to the Dyersburg Country Club to celebrate George Washington's birthday with Miriam and Hamilton Parks. The piece de resistance was shrimp, mounds of it, boiled to perfection, in the shells, a la New Orleans, lake-side way.

Well, I'm not very polite when it comes to shrimp and I ate enough of them to last for a long while. After the dinner our hosts showed us around that lovely Country Club and we paused to

Proposed Federal Unemployment-Compensation Law Would Bankrupt Business, Cost Billions

Round and Round and Round It Goes
And Where It'll Stop, Nobody Knows

These rhythmic lines automatically come to mind each time we pick up a newspaper or listen to a news broadcast commenting on the high cost of living and breathing these days.

In this space age, everything is up in the air, with the cost of living and taxes spiraling into the stratosphere.

And when or where our costly world will anchor, nobody knows, and sadly enough, those in a position to halt this disastrous trend toward bankruptcy don't even seem to care.

Social security taxes have increased and they're going higher; property taxes have increased and they're going to get worse before they get better; income taxes will be higher, if there's any income left to tax; groceries are higher, clothes are more expensive, and the cost of doing business is almost to the point where it's more profitable to be on relief.

Most of us do well to keep abreast of what's happening in State and local governments where taxes are concerned, much less keep aware of the landslide of new Federal taxes that could be imposed on us almost at any time.

Take for instance the unemployment-compensation bill now before the United States Congress. It is estimated to cost billions of dollars, encroach on the state's traditional rights and bring us all a step near to the complete welfare State.

H. R. 8282 proposes to set up a whole new program designed, for all intents and purposes, to give the federal government virtual control over all unemployment compensation systems and radically alter the existing set-up.

To begin with it raises the tax and, more important, raises the wage base from the first 3000 dollars of an employee's earnings to the first 6600 dollars of earnings by 1970, more than double the present scale. All in all, it has been estimated that the cost of this increase in payroll taxes alone will be in the neighborhood of 60 percent. And since this cost is paid by employers alone, with no payroll deductions from the employee's wages, it is the buying public who will eventually pay the bill for the increased costs of goods and services provided by the nation's employers.

Moreover, the bill would alter the present reason for the very existence of unemployment insurance which is, of course, to help those who are temporarily unemployed through no fault of their own.

Through its provisions, H. R. 8282 would make just about anyone eligible for benefits.

And what benefits they will be! The Reader's Digest quotes estimates that range as high as $125.00 per week for periods that could last as long as a year and a half... certainly small encouragement to the unemployed to seek new jobs during that long stretch of time.

The bill is drafted in a clever manner. It doesn't come out and do these things openly. Instead, it sets up standards with which the states must either comply or else suffer severe penalties in taxation assuring that compliance will result. Thus the bill's supporters can claim that the states have a choice while, in fact, the choice is little more than death by hanging or death by firing squad.

The bill will be coming up for action in the Congress in this session. It may well provide one of the hottest fights of this Congressional election year. How it will turn out will depend on whether or not the bill's backers can succeed in stifling opposition on the doubtful grounds that to oppose the bill is to be against the unemployed.

If the public swallows that whole the bill will pass.

Two And One-Half Per Cent Economy Move Would Produce $50,000,000.00 For State's Teachers

After writing the editorial above, we looked in the dictionary just to be sure that such words as economy, decrease, careful spending and cut-back were still there. They are!

The only problem is that many of our legislators on the State and National scene get spots before their eyes when they look for the definitions.

Take for instance the unfortunate controversy now raging in Kentucky regarding an increase in the salaries for the State's 29,000 class room teachers.

Everybody agrees that the teachers deserve the increase asked for, but nobody, but nobody seems to want to bear the burden for producing the added revenue.

We admire Governor Breathitt for standing firm on his campaign pledge that there would be no new taxes imposed during his term of office. As we see it, there need not be. IF——The State Administration would ask for a meager TWO AND ONE-HALF PER CENT ECONOMY MOVE in the more than $2,000,000,000.00 budget passed by the General Assembly.

—This would account for $50,000,000.00 in revenue, more than needed to give class room teachers the $900 increase they asked for.

—In some departments this money could be found in putting into motion standards of efficiency. No business operation ever reaches the pinnacle of efficiency, let alone government.

Two billion dollars is lots of money. Two and one-half percent is a mighty small percentage of economy. We wonder why somebody doesn't suggest this as a solution to the problem of financing education.

We know why... because it's fashionable to spend more these days, not less, and government is way out in the fashion parade.

POET'S CORNER

LIFE'S MIRROR

There are loyal hearts, there are spirits brave,
There are souls that are pure and true;
Then give to the world the best you have,
And the best will come back to you.

Give love, and love to your life will flow,
A strength in your utmost need;
Have faith, and a score of hearts will show
Their faith in your word and deed.

Give truth, and your gift will be paid in kind,
And honor will honor meet;
And a smile that is sweet will surely find
A smile that is just as sweet.

Given sorrow and pity to those who mourn;
You will gather in flowers again;
The scattered seeds of your thought outborne,
Though the sowing seemed but vain.

For life is the mirror of king and slave—
'Tis just what we are and do;
Then give to the world the best you have,
And the best will come back to you.

FULTON'S

Library Corner

by Miss Jessie Orgain

In keeping with the approach of the Lenten Season, the library is featuring some materials this week of a religious nature. Among these we find some very fine recordings, helps for daily devotions, for worship programs, inspirational reading, Bible study, histories and beliefs of different denominations and also of all the chief religions of the world. A book on symbols of the Church makes an interesting study, and a book on flower arrangements for the sanctuary is helpful. Some of these titles are listed below:

THE FIRST EASTER, Peter Marshall's exciting and reverent version of the great Easter story, edited by his wife.

THE DAY CHRIST DIED, in which Jim Bishop has re-created with dignity, but with a sense of contemporary drama, the last hours of the life of Christ.

LETTERS TO MALCOLM: C. S. Lewis, author of the well known SCREWTAPE LETTER, considers many puzzling questions implicit in the practice of prayer, in these warm personal letters to a friend, Malcolm.

WORLD AFLAME: Billy Graham's new book relative to the crises of our times, has been so popular that it is hard to find it on the shelves at any time.

FROM PAGAN TO CHRISTIAN, by Lin Yutang is a personal account of this distinguished Chinese philosopher's spiritual pilgrimage back to Christianity.

SENSE AND INCENSE: Omar Eby, with the eyes of a young missionary tells the story of what the life of a missionary is like.

SEEDS OF DESTRUCTION, by Thomas Merton. Father Merton, a monk of the Trappist Monastery near Bardonia, Kentucky has established himself as a spiritual writer of significance for our time.

THE ROAD TO BITHYNIA, by Frank Slaughter. It is the story of Luke's search for peace in a tempestuous age, the years immediately following the crucifixion. It could be called a fictional biography.

MARKINGS, by Dag Hammarskjöld. This is a remarkable record of the spiritual life of a man whose public image was universally known and admired.

THE ROAD TO BITHYNIA, by Frank Slaughter. It is the story of Luke's search for peace in a tempestuous age, the years immediately following the crucifixion. It could be called a fictional biography.

A display of religious books may be seen in the library this week. Come in and look them over. There are many that have not been listed here. Some very fine music may also be found to fit in with programs of the season, or for your own personal enjoyment. A few of these recordings are listed below:

Lost Tribes

Irish Folks

by Irvin S. Cobb

(Third in a Series)

Well, as I said a bit ago, I set out to trace my Irish ancestry. In that undertaking I found a ready helper in a distant kinsman who was not carried away by the fetish that the South was all Anglo-Saxon, whatever that is; and he worked me early and late on family records. Indeed, he worked me so hard that sometimes I think I think I might have likened my position to that of a colored brother in a little town in my state who was the only member of his race at the local election who voted the Democratic ticket. It was felt that such loyalty should be rewarded, so the incoming administration created a Department of Street Cleaning—an institution hitherto unknown in that community—to consist of a boss or foreman, and a staff. Quite naturally the job of foreman went to a white man, but upon the worthy colored person was conferred the honor of being the staff. Now, he held to the theory, common even among those of the more enlightened races, that a political office meant much honor and much pay but mightily little work. Nevertheless, as a matter of form he carried a shovel with him on the morning when he reported for service. But the white man who was to serve over him had very different ideas regarding the obligation owing to the municipality. No sooner had the darkey cleaned up one pile of debris than the foreman would find another and yet another for him to wrestle with. It was four o'clock in the afternoon before the darkey so much as straightened his back or wiped the sweat off his brow new-formed blisters on his hands. "Boss, ain't you but jes' to think to do?"

"Yes," the white man said, "that's all my you busy."

The darkey said that case you'll you ain't goin' morrow."

But I kept on covered a lot of lost tribes of South. LOST TRIBES—sweat off his brow or blew on the new-formed blisters in the palms of his hands. Finally he said, "Boss, ain't you got nuthin' to do but jes' to think-up things for me to do?"

"Yes," the white man said, "that's all my job - just to keep you busy."

The darkey said, "Well, suh, in that case you'll be pleased to know you ain't goin' to be workin' tomorrow."

But I kept on working and I discovered a lot of things about the lost tribes of the Irish in the South. The State of Kentucky from which I hail has been called the cradle of the Anglo-Saxon race in America, and it has been said that the mountaineers of that state, with their feuds and their Elizabethan, Chaucerian methods of speech represent the purest strains of English blood to be found today on this continent. Now, then, let us see if that is true. I have looked into that matter and I tell you that fifty percent, at least, of the dwellers of the mountains of the South and notably of Kentucky and Virginia are the lineal descendants of runaway indentured men, Irish rebels mainly, from the Virginia plantations. I know - a mountain county in Kentucky of which half of the population bear one of three names. They are either Mayos, or Patricks, or Powerses. And I once heard an orator stand up before an audience of these Mayos and Powerses and Patricks and congratulate them on their pure English descent, and they believe it!

I wish you would pardon me once more for referring to my line of ancestry, for it is testimony to prove my claim. On my father's side I am descended from a group of men who went from New England to Kentucky and the names of these men were Lyon and Cobb, which is a Danish corruption of O'Connor, and Machen, and Clendenin, and O'Hara, and Glen, which is a corruption of Glynn. What a hot bunch of Anglo-Saxons!

The Congressional District in which I was born and where I used to live has thirteen counties in it. Listen to the names of these thirteen counties: Marshall, Calloway, Graves, McCracken, Lyon, Livingston, Caldwell, Trigg, Crittenden, Ballard, Hickman, Fulton, Carlisle - thirteen counties and all but two of them have Irish names.

What is true of my own section of Kentucky is true of the rest of the State. Daniel Boone has been called the first explorer of Kentucky and it has been said he was of English descent. Both of these statements are wrong. Daniel Boone was not the first explorer of Kentucky. The first man to explore Kentucky was an Irishman by the name of John Finley. But before him was still another Irishman by the name of McBride - James McBride. He lingers in state history as a shadowy figure, but I like to think of him as a red-haired chap with a rifle in one hand and possibly a demijohn in the other, coming out through the trackless wilderness alone and landing from his canoe on what was afterwards to be known as the Dark and Bloody ground. Aside from his name, it is proven that he was an Irishman by the legendary circumstances that immediately after coming ashore he carved his name in deep and enduring letters in the bark of the largest beech tree of the forest, and claimed all of the land that lay within his vision as his own, and shot an Indian or two and went on his way rejoicing. As for Daniel Boone, the great pathfinder, he really was descended from the line of Bohum, which is Norman-Irish, and his mother was a Morgan, and his wife was a Bryan, and his father was an Irish Catholic.

The records show that nearly three-fourths of that dauntless little band who under the leadership of George Rogers Clark, an Irishman, waded through the floods to take Vincennes and thereby won all the great Northwest Territory away from the British and gave to the American colonies what today is the richest part of the United States, were Irishmen - not Scotch-Irish nor English-Irish, but plain Irish-Irish men who were rebels and patriots by instinct and born adventurers by reason of the blood which ran in their veins.

Your Telephone Manager

Have You Heard About The NEW, QUICK Way To Pay Your Phone Bill?

You let the bank pay it through your checking account! Here's how it works. First, call the Southern Bell Telephone Company Business Office in Fulton, and ask that your phone bill be paid on the Bank Draft Plan. We'll send your bank a draft each month for the amount of your bill, and they'll deduct it from your account. Your monthly bank statement will include the draft along with your paid checks, and your monthly bill from us will be marked "paid by bank." That's all there is to it. Why not start paying your phone bills the quick Bank Draft Plan way?

Early Bird Taxpayers Get Refunds

794 "early bird" taxpayers in Kentucky have received refunds of $96,240.28, according to the District Director of Internal Revenue, G. C. Hooks. He stated these taxpayers filed returns early and, therefore, have received refunds.

Director Hook also said that 1,757 tax returns could not be processed by the Service Center. He explained that this total includes 752 returns without signature; 923 containing no withholding statement; and 82 without a social security number. He suggested that all taxpayers be particularly careful in preparing their returns in order to avoid delays in processing.

Cherry Pies, Good Program At Carnegie

The fifth session of the Dale Carnegie Class, which met Monday night, February 21, was the most interesting class of the school. The speeches given by the class members filled the class with excitement.

There were twenty members present. One visitor, Joe Parrot, a dental technician of Cairo, Illinois, was welcomed. Mr. Parrott was a member of the Dale Carnegie class in Cairo and needed to make up a class session. Members who are absent are always missed greatly by the group.

Winners of the speech awards were: Billy Moss of Fulton, best speech; Elvis Bugg of Clinton, most-improvement shown; Mrs. Linda Nanney of Fulton, achievement award.

The class appreciated the individual cherry pies given by Mrs. Jackie Wright, Buddy Bondurant and Charles Hickerson, representatives of the Wonder Bread Company, Union City. Coffee, donated by the men in the class at each session, is also appreciated.

History Quiz At Chestnut Glade Reveals Area Has Many "Firsts"

Many interesting and informative items were reported when members of the Chestnut Glade Homemakers Club answered the roll call by naming a historical place in Weakley County, at the meeting on February 17 in the home of Mrs. C. C. Simpson.

It was recalled that Chestnut Glade was once the largest consolidated rural school in the nation; that Ruthville at one time had a post office; that there is only one Dukedom in the United States; that there has been an appropriation for funds to establish a State park at the site of the huge cypress tree near Greenfield, which tree is reported to be the largest tree in the southeast. Much information was learned concerning the monument on the Court Square in Dresden, which was dedicated to the Weakley County men who engaged in the Battle of Shiloh. Information was learned concerning Garrett Lake, which is attracting many visitors to Weakley County.

Mrs. W. C. Morrison led the group in singing two songs, and Mrs. Harvey Vaughan gave the devotional.

Following the regular business, a report was given by Mrs. W. C. Morrison concerning the county-wide meeting she attended at the W. C. M. E. S. kitchen at Martin. Mrs. Pat Hurley, W. C. M. E. S. home economist, demonstrated Teflon electric appliances.

After a bountiful lunch, Mrs. Jim Burke directed a clever Lincoln contest, with Mrs. Morrison being the winner.

Mrs. Paul Reams gave an interesting and informative lesson on the selection of fabrics and on pattern type selection. She was assisted by Mrs. Helen Wylie, home agent. Mrs. Laverne Owensby gave a lesson, stressing the Basic Four in food selection and preparation. Mrs. Helen Wylie presented a film showing many new and improved cooking utensils.

Mrs. J. T. Simpson, Mrs. C. R. Reams and Mrs. Larry Cochran were welcomed as visitors. Mrs. Ellen Brown will be hostess for the March meeting at 500 College Street in Martin. Visitors are cordially welcome.

CHIEF OF POLICE

CITY OF FULTON, KENTUCKY

FARM NEWS

Farmers can make their decisions for participation in commodity programs this year with the assurance that 1966-crop objectives are in line with U. S. food policy as outlined in President Johnson's message on food for freedom, Ed Jones, Chairman of the State ASC Committee, pointed out today.

The President proposed two bills—one to establish commodity reserves and another to amend and retain the best parts of P. L. 480. These bills will be debated by the Congress and, if passed, become effective January 1967, Chairman Jones has been informed by J. S. Department of Agriculture officials. After they become effective additional time would elapse before agreements could be developed with other countries to provide self-help programs implemented with U. S. food aid. As for reserves, the message noted that it is not likely that any purchases to build up reserves would be needed during the first year.

While pointing to the 60 million acres now in conservation uses as "major emergency reserve," the message cautioned that this acreage would not be brought back to production to produce unwanted surpluses or to supplant efforts of other countries to develop their own agricultural economies.

For the immediate future, there is urgent need to reduce the carryover stocks of feed grains and cotton, as Secretary of Agriculture Wilbur Phillips recently pointed out. For other commodities, the built-in flexibility of the Food and Agriculture Act of 1965 and other farm legislation provides the means to react swiftly to changing conditions as demonstrated by recent program modifications affecting soybeans, rice, and wheat.

Spring wheat producers will not be offered the opportunity to divert wheat acreage for payment. This could encourage some increased wheat acreage. The expected supply of wheat of more than 2 billion bushels for the coming year is more than ample to meet needs. Going into the new marketing year, the carryover of wheat added to sizeable 1966-crop production will be more than sufficient to meet year's domestic food and seed use.

Farmers who participate in the voluntary feed grain program will be able to plant soybeans on permitted feed grain acreage and continue to earn feed grain price support payments as if they had planted feed grains. This will enable farmers to shift acreage to soybeans from feed grains for which production possibilities continue to outstrip foreseeable needs. A major proportion of yearly acreage diversion is accounted for by feed grains and if the supply is to be kept in balance with needs, feed grain acreage diversion by producers participants must stay at high levels, officials said.

For rice, the acreage allotment level will be 20 percent above the minimum acreage specified by agricultural legislation. This will bring a record level of production and will provide more than 55 million hundredweight of rice to cover commercial dollar exports plus anticipated food aid needs. At the same time, domestic needs of about 31 million hundredweight will be met and a reserve of 7 to 9 million hundredweight will be maintained.

The need is urgent to move toward reducing the cotton surplus which will climb to a record 16-12 million bales this July. The new acreage diversion program authorized by the Food and Agriculture Act of 1965 provides the means to reduce cotton production and the surplus while maintaining producers' incomes.

Farmers taking part in the 1966 wheat, feed grain, and cotton diversion programs have built-in insurance against natural disaster, according to Roy Bard, Chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee.

The Chairman explained that last year, when flood, drought, and other such natural disasters prevented farmers from carrying out their signed-up program intentions, special legislation was enacted to enable participants to qualify for the program payments, and thus meet the emergency situation. Because of this experience, similar provisions were included in the omnibus Food and Agriculture Act of 1965, enacted last November.

Therefore, farmers who sign up to take part in the 1966 wheat, feed grain, or cotton programs may still qualify for feed grain and cotton price-support payments and wheat marketing certificates if the farmer files a special application at the ASCS county office and it can be determined that disaster conditions prevented the planting of part or all of the acreage intended for production under the adjustment programs.

HELPING THEMSELVES

Foreign countries help feed their own hungry under CARE Partnership Programs, whereby local governments pay the agency's costs of delivering U. S. farm foods to 32-550,000 people. Let's Get An Industry

Down on the Farm

With JIM PRYOR

Agricultural Agent, Illinois Central Railroad

We could well give the title of this last article on sheep a plan for action, or how to help solve the sheep enterprise problem, or possibly saving the sheep industry.

I believe the future of the sheep industry or any other farming endeavor lies in the education of our farm youth and young farmers now in operation. Our first task is the existing concern in finding new methods of fighting diseases and parasites. Present sheep growers are becoming fewer in numbers each season because of this, and every pressure should be brought to bear in accomplishing this move.

There is still a place in our western Kentucky agriculture program for a flock of sheep. There is also a place in our economy for sheep as a main livestock enterprise. If we will work together in controlling disease and parasites, practice proper culling, importation of desirable replacements from the west, and the creation of a market facility here in the western portion of the state for all sheepsman, then and only then will we preserve the Spring Lamb of Kentucky.

It goes without saying that sheep work well in most any farming operation. It is a natural for 4-H Club projects and Future Farmers of America enterprises for profit. In my opinion we are long overdue for instruction of and encouragement in the sheep business.

A note of encouragement on parasite and disease control comes from the University of Illinois Dixon Springs Experiment Station at Simpson, Illinois. They have produced a parasite free flock of ewes. This will enable the station to inoculate the laboratory specimen with a specific parasite, then see what treatment will completely eliminate the bug. This is truly a step in the proper direction in keeping the sheepman in business for the future. Bob Webb, Director of the Station, says he is very much interested in the progress of this experiment and plans to do more such work in the field of disease control for sheep.

Fred Powell, Sheep Specialist for the University of Tennessee, gives us the following information on the returns that may be expected from the flock. A comparison of returns from the Knoxville, Tennessee Station shows the beef cattle return is 50c for each dollar invested; in dairying every $1.20 investment will give the dairyman $1.05; the sheep grower will receive $1.16 for each one dollar invested in sheep. This is pretty conclusive research and should be kept in mind when thoughts of expanding into a new livestock enterprise or establishing one for a young farmer in school.

There is one very important thing I would like to leave with you, if you plan to go into any business or change from one to another. It is the farmer who stays through thick and thin, rain or shine, high prices or low, that makes money in any type farming. The in and outers soon go to the auction block with the land and on to town.

Refund Comes Faster With Plain Address

"When will I get my refund?" is one of the questions most frequently asked by Kentucky taxpayers, said District Director of Internal Revenue G. C. Hooks.

He added that thousands of refund checks are returned to Internal Revenue every year because the postman cannot deliver them.

Illegible names or addresses on returns cause many refund checks to be returned as undeliverable. Avoid this by printing or typing your name and address carefully at the top of the return, including your Social Security number, Mr. Hooks said.

If you move after you file your return, leave your forwarding address with the Post Office. It is also a good idea to send your new address to the Internal Revenue Service.

THREE (3) OBION COUNTY FARMERS TIE FOR 1st PLACE IN SILAGE FAIR

The quality of silage fed to our livestock continues to improve each year if the results of our silage fairs and meetings is any indication. At the Silage Fair held in Union City last week Altman & Oliver and James Carl Hammond had corn silage that graded 83, while Melvin Yates had a sample of red clover and grass silage that graded 83. The two high scoring corn samples were secured from concrete up-right silos with metal roofs while the high scoring red clover silage was secured from an air tight metal silo. Twenty-eight

(28) samples of silage was entered in the silage fair.

Joe Burns, University of Tennessee Agronomist, emphasized during the meeting that excellent silage can be secured from any type of silo for the most important thing about making good quality silage is for the farmer to: ensile high yielding quality crop at proper stage of maturity, pack the silage, keep water from getting to silage, and cover the silage to keep as much air as possible out of the silage.

Not too long ago farmers were mainly concerned with tonnage of silage while today almost all farmers are more concerned with the quality of the silage. It is amazing to us how much improvement has been made in the quality of silage in the last five years.

ALFALFA

Surveys made last week in Obion County revealed the presence of alfalfa weevil larvae feeding in the bud of alfalfa. Farmers should be urged to inspect their alfalfa fields, however, it is much too early to apply control measures. Weevils should be allowed to do some feeding. When the plants show 50 percent feeding damage controls should be started. Stated another way, when you find 8-10 larvae per square foot and the alfalfa is less than 8-10 inches high, control should be initiated. Applications should be made when the temperature is at least 65 to 70 degrees.

U. T. SWINE TESTING STATION BOAR SALE

The sale of tested boars from the U. T. Swine Testing Station will be held on March 4, 1:30 p. m., at the Ellington Agricultural Center, Nashville.

The sale will consist of 40 boars of the following breeds: 22 Duroc, 8 Hampshire, 2 Poland China and 8 Yorkshire

Since all of the boars are not presently off test, the number may vary slightly. In addition, there will be approximately 20 open gilts from the same herds as the tested boars.

This sale offers an excellent selection of meat-type boars. As you know, these boars are tested for economical production traits that can be transmitted to their offspring. The most progress can be made in a breeding program where the level of production of the boar is known.

Business Keys to Success

Does Business Have To Be A Gamble?

Four out of five new products offered to the prosperous, product-hungry American consumer fail in their first year.

Despite these odds, the rewards of winning seem to make the gamble worth it. Exhibit A: some of today's wealthiest young businessmen were unknown and virtually without funds just 10 years ago. Some products that were almost unknown just 5 years ago are leading their field today. But you can still lose plenty. Ask the Edsel people.

Does business have to be such a gamble? Will venture capital always be "risk capital?"

Not necessarily, say many business analysts. There are guidelines available today to keep both the new company and the fast-moving industrial giant from drawing too many losing cards.

The key word is "Information."

The importance of information is no historical surprise; battles have been lost, wars started . . . sales campaigns failed, products left unsold—all because the decision-maker or manager didn't have the facts on hand to guide him.

Market-testing and depth interviews, once thought to be reliable protection against product failure, are no longer considered the final answer in today's lightning-paced market place.

plying this need, the information-gathering and distributing industries, which include market research, public relations, advertising, and information processing and copying firms such as Charles Bruning Company, division of Addressograph Multigraph Corporation.

After studying the vital decision-making factors in modern marketing practice, Bruning reduced the ultimate copying needs to three factors: speed, legibility, and low cost. A precise electrostatic principle copying machine was developed to meet these requirements. Early in 1965 the machine was refined further with a desk-top copier that brought copying costs down still further.

The result of this more effective informative processing: young, fast-growing companies are now able to compete better with the giants in any given field. They both have the quick, steady flow of information they need to succeed.

Mixing time is short for this little quick bread, because you use enriched self-rising flour. This reliable product already contains just the right amount of leavening and salt for perfect results and wonderful home-baked goodness everytime. Three B-vitamins, and the minerals calcium and iron, found in enriched self-rising flour provide an important nutritional plus.

NUTTY CORN MUFFINS

1 cup boiling water	1 egg, beaten
1/2 cups enriched self-rising	3/4 to 1 cup milk

brown sugar	Confectioners sugar
3/4 cup chopped pecans

Soak apricots in water about 10 minutes and drain. Stir together corn meal and brown sugar in mixing bowl. Mix in 1/2 cup pecans, dates and apricots. Athletes Often Die From Hidden Ailments

A clinical psychologist at the University of Kentucky believes that minor infections may be the cause of apparently healthy athletes suddenly dropping dead—if they also have undetected heart disease. Dr. Ernst Joki recently described to a Chicago audience some rare but important observations to the effect that athletes may have abnormalities of the blood vessels and muscle of the heart that never show up.

"Even normal athletes may have attacks of nausea and vomiting after an exhausting performance, but a healthy athlete will rarely become blue or lose consciousness," he said.

Employees In Kentucky Paid 574 Millions

Kentucky payrolls, subject to Social Security taxes, amounted to $578 million during the first quarter of 1964, 14 percent higher than the first quarter of 1963, according to a report, "County Business Patterns: 1964-Kentucky", issued recently by the U. S. Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census.

The report is one in a series of State reports which has been shifted to an annual basis to provide each year an updated county-by-county and State picture of the Nation's business structure. The report presents data on employment, taxable payrolls and the number and employment size of reporting units for each of the hundreds of different industries under which private nonfarm firms subject to the Federal Insurance Contributions Act are classified.

All industries showed larger taxable payrolls than in 1962. Manufacturing representing 42 percent of the total payroll, showed an increase of $34 million (16 percent) over 1962. Retail trade, with an increase of $10 million (15 percent); and services, up $10 million (20 percent) were among the businesses registering substantial gains.

According to the report, mid-March 1964 employment totaled 532,111, an increase of 32,142 (6 percent) over the comparable period in 1962. Manufacturing, the largest employer with 184,184 employees showed an increase of 17,483 employees (11 percent) over 1962.

UK's Mr. Roberts Enjoying Retirement

The University of Kentucky's "Mr. Roberts" retired this month after 25 years' service in the Student Center grill. Lawrence Roberts, known popularly as "Mr. Roberts" to more than a generation of UK students, believes that as a group, students are more serious than they used to be. "They now think and dress differently, but they still are a nice bunch of kids," he says.

He added that many of the young people he has known at UK since 1941 have "gone far" in the business and academic worlds.

TVA Completes First Outdoor Youth Classes

A new facility designed to accommodate classroom groups and their teachers in the Land Between the Lakes Region has been completed.

The Tennessee Valley Authority which is developing the 170,000-acre area in West Kentucky and Tennessee, reported that the Youth Activities Station, as it will be known, will be used for the first time by a classroom group in April.

The sixth and seventh grades of the Middle Tennessee State University Campus School will spend five days in the outdoor education center. The youngsters will test the facility and help develop a program that other school groups might follow when they make use of the station.

Facilities include a classroom-dining hall building and dormitories to house 48 students in addition to their teachers. Groups visiting the station may stay as long as two weeks to study natural sciences. Trails, lakes, streams and ponds will be used as outdoor laboratories.

Built on a point of land extending into Lake Barkley, the station is part of the 4,500-acre Conservation Education Center. An Adult Activities Station is planned in future years. Both stations are designed to teach the ways of nature and conservation measures.

Col. Paul J. Durbin

Col. Durbin Leaving For Assignment In Vietnam

Colonel Paul J. Durbin, Deputy Staff Judge Advocate for Fifth US Army, will leave this month for his second tour of duty in Vietnam. He had the distinction of being the first Staff Judge Advocate officer to serve in Vietnam when he arrived in Saigon in 1959. At that time only 900 U. S. troops were in Vietnam. Today almost 200,000 Americans are serving there.

The colonel registered another "first" while at USARPAC Headquarters in Hawaii in 1962. He established the initial U. S. Staff Judge Advocate Office in Thailand during a special TDY assignment in that country.

The colonel entered the Army as an ROTC second lieutenant of Infantry in 1941 after being graduated from the University of Kentucky Law School. In his college days he captained the school track and boxing teams, and was the Kentucky Lightweight Golden Gloves Champion.

During World War II Colonel Durbin took part in infantry campaigns in Southern France and Germany.

After the war, the colonel returned to civilian life in Kentucky to practice law. Soon afterwards he was elected state railroad commissioner but resigned the post in 1948 to accept a Regular Army commission.

The 47-year-old Kentuckian had considered retiring from military service to resume his law practice and possible political career when the opportunity to return to Vietnam came. He said, "I didn't feel right just reading about the war, so when the chance came I grabbed it."

Colonel Durbin's new Vietnam assignment will probably be somewhere in the field. He commented, "My only regret about being in the 'boonies' is that I'll be unable to teach the course in American Law I initiated at the University of Saigon during my last tour."

Earlier in his career the colonel served with the 82nd and 101st Airborne Divisions. The Screaming Eagles of the 101st are in Vietnam today. The colonel mentioned he had always admired the esprit of airborne units and said, "I've got some old friends with the 101st, and I'll be glad to be back with them."

Included in Colonel Durbin's collection of citations are the Bronze Star with two Oak Leaf Clusters, Combat Infantry Badges, and Senior Parachutist Badge.

While the colonel is away his wife, Margaret, and son, Jimmy, 17, will be staying in Honolulu, Hawaii, where Jimmy will begin freshman classes at the University of Hawaii. Mrs. Durbin also plans to take courses at the University. Daughter Paula, 23, will stay in New Haven, Connecticut, and continue graduate work at Yale University.

have an after-dinner drink called, of all things, a grasshopper.

The beverage is a concoction of creme de menthe, creme de cocoa and cream. As people will do when the company is pleasant and the talk is good, we sipped along on grasshoppers until time to get back to Fulton. . . and that's when the crustaceans and the insects got to hopping and flipping all around inside.

I haven't yet found out why they were so disturbed at each other, unless they were fighting over the cream. I would have been delighted to have given them an extra helping, if only the shrimp and the grasshopper hadn't made their battle a championship affair.

As I write this, Bi So Dol was called in to referee the bout, which I hope is not a fight-to-the-finish competition.

ROBERTS—

from the writer to the Hon. Brady Stewart, dated December 13, 1965, which lays before Judge Stewart the problem that we face in the District. I respectfully request that you give this letter your earnest attention. I would like for you to pay particular attention to the chart showing the case load in the five counties.

I realize that population wise, this District is not very large, but in the amount of judicial business that is handled in this District, it is one of the largest in the state. It is, by far, the 'arghest of any other District comprising four or more counties. In this District there are 1008 cases pending. This is 200 more than any other District of this size. Everyone is familiar with the fact that after argument of the case on depositions or on the pleadings, that the Judge must study this case and do his own independent case research after digesting the facts of the case as presented. Our Judge does not have one single day, except Sunday, to do this work. The Statute provides 253 Court days in a year. So as to make himself available, he has split his days and arranged his schedule so that in these 253 days, he held Court 445 days. He disposed of 564 cases. Of this, 308 required a trial, 104 of them were jury trials, frequently requiring two or more days.

One other matter is often overlooked. It is unfair to a client to require a lawyer for three weeks in a succession, to day after day go from one trial to another. The juries get tired of seeing him, the lawyer does not have time to collect his wits, the cases cannot receive the last minute detail and the litigants consequently suffer because of the rush of things in our congested terms of Court. In this District, as it now exists, there are 92 days available for Civil Jury trials. There are 493 cases on the docket now waiting to be disposed of that required a Civil Jury trial. In the Graves Circuit Court alone, there are 476 cases on the docket. 365 of these cases have been pending more than six months. There are only 36 trial days in a year in the Graves Circuit Court. At that rate, if there were no more cases filed, it would take 10 years to dispose of the cases now pending in the Graves Circuit Court alone.

There is nothing politically motivated about this proposal. It is a simple recognition of a fact that exists by those who are confronted by it day after day, the lawyers of the District. We realize that we are not able to do justice to our clients and therefore, have appealed to the Governor, the Court of Appeals, the Judicial Council, and now to the Legislature, through our Senators and Representatives, for some relief from the intolerable situation which now exists.

Judge Tipton held Court nearly three times as many days as any other Judge in Kentucky in 1965. Only those Courts having two or more Judges had as many Court days as did the Judge of the First Judicial District. By way of comparison, Judge Tipton held Court 445 days in 1965. The 2nd District (McCracken) held Court 132 days, the 3rd District (Christian, Lyon and Trigg) 193. The two Judges of Daviess County, only 502. And even with this work load carried by our Judge, the case load increased 864 cases to 1008 cases. Anyone who will take the report of the Judicial Council filed January 10th, 1966 and compare the First Judicial District and any other District in the state, will see the justification for the plea of the lawyers to speed up the judicial machinery in this District.

I was intrigued by the statement in the paper that the addition of this District would cost the taxpayers $140,000.00 in six years. This is completely erroneous. It is true that it would add the salary of one Circuit Judge. The costs of all other officers would come from costs taxed to the cases that are handled. This includes the salary of the Commonwealth Attorney, the expense account of the Judge, and the expense account of the Commonwealth Attorney. Therefore, with the addition of $14,900.00 per year, we believe the congestion of our present docket would be alleviated. The question is asked, "Is the docket current?" There were 660 cases on July 1st that have been pending more than six months. This is an increase of 31 cases over a year ago. When compared to the other Districts in the state, this is not out of proportion, but a study of these cases will indicate that this increase is due to the backlog of Civil Jury trial cases that are awaiting trial.

This request was not made lightly, but only after detail study by a committee of the First Judicial District Bar Association. It was adopted with only one dissenting vote at the meeting of the First Judicial Bar Association. It has been on three separate occasions, submitted to discussion and re-adoption by the Bar, composed of 26 attorneys and each time with not more than one dissenting vote. I would be very glad to meet with any of you gentlemen at any time to answer any questions that you might have concerning this bill now before the legislature.

Very truly yours,

H. W. Roberts, Jr.
Chairman, Judicial District Committee,
First Judicial Bar Association

Is Your Farm In Need Of Additional Capital To Increase Net Farm Income?

One of the fastest moving trends in agriculture is the use of capital to increase volume of business per farm.

A recent study made by farm management specialists for the University of Kentucky of a pilot farm in this area showed that additional capital could increase annual net farm income by 20 percent of the additional capital invested. If your farm is lacking this capital-you may be lacking in net farm income.

This capital may be obtained through a short or intermediate-term loan from the Jackson Purchase PCA.

Mrs. C. C. Lowry To Speak At Fulton Club's Jubilee Dinner

FULTON, Ky. — Mrs. C. C. Lowry of Murray, unopposed candidate for the office of president of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs for 1966-68, will be the guest speaker at a dinner meeting of the Fulton Woman's Club to be held at the Park Terrace Restaurant on March 4.

The meeting, open to members of the club, their husbands and guests, will be held in commemoration of the 75th anniversary of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Lowry has been active in Woman's Clubs' activities for a number of years and is currently serving as first vice-president of the Kentucky Federation. She is also well-known through her leadership in the PTA and in the Methodist Church. An avid golfer, Mrs. Lowry has often participated in tournaments at the local country club. Her husband is a Murray doctor.

"We feel very fortunate in having obtained Mrs. Lowry as the guest speaker for our Golden Jubilee dinner," Mrs. Bob Morgan, Fulton's Woman's Club president reported, adding, "We are anticipating that this occasion will be a milestone in the history of the local club."

Tickets to the dinner are

Oratorical Contest Is Scheduled

MAYFIELD, Ky.,

The first step toward a $4,000 scholarship will be taken by the winner of the First District American Legion oratorical contest to be held here at 9 a.m. March 4.

The district contest is open to any student. To enter the contest, students should contact their local American Legion post commander immediately, according to contest Chairman Harry H. Boaz.

The reason for the urgency, Boaz said, is that various posts have to certify their contestant to the district chairman by March 1.

The national contest will be held this year at New England College, Henniker, N.H. on April 7. Second, third and fourth place winners in the national competition will receive $2,500, $1,000 and $500 scholarships respectively.

(The first district winner last year, Tim Futrell of Cadiz, won the state contest and the regional contest in Michigan and was barely defeated by Dennis R. Holub of South Dakota who was the third-place winner in the national event.)

Orations must be eight to 10 minutes in length. Recommended topics are available from posts.

Once-Married Man Has Children By 8 Women

MEMPHIS (AP) — Juvenile court authorities here were perplexed today by the case of a 46-year-old truck driver who confounded a non-support hearing Thursday with a tale of extra-marital woe.

"It's the most mixed up case I've ever heard in my life," commented Juvenile court Judge Kenneth Turner, referring to a complaint by a mother of eight who said she was not receiving enough child support.

The object of everyone's disaffection stated his case: "She's the only one who ever complained. The rest of them think I do pretty well."

"What do you mean?" asked the judge.

"The seven other women," replied the father, explaining that he has other children in Memphis and some in Mississippi, Arkansas, Tennessee and Missouri. "There's 23 children in all, and I do the best I can by all of them," he said.

Turner asked the man if he were married.

"Well, I was," he said, "but it didn't work out. She had three children that weren't mine. I had three that weren't hers. Then she and I got two more. Then she and I got another from someplace else."

In spite of his misfortunes, he claimed he does not shirk his fatherly responsibilities. He said he buys clothes and food for all 23 children not just the six who live with him.

"People laugh when I go into a shoe store because I buy them a dozen at a time," he said.

"I do pretty well by them on $77 a week."

The judge offered some wry praise, conceding, "You've set some kind of record."

The case was continued for a week to give authorities additional time to conduct an investigation, but Turner was doubtful.

"It might take a year," he said.

Fulton City 66, College High 59

FULTON, Ky. — Fulton City grabbed an early lead and held on for a 66-59 victory over Murray College High here Friday night.

The Bulldogs were in control all the way, though never holding a comfortable margin. The Colts trailed by only eight at halftime and by seven after three periods.

Lloyd Bone led a five man double figure attack for the Bulldogs with 17 points while game honors went to College High's Steve Shelton with 22.

KFWC To Sponsor Art, Music, Sewing Contests In Fulton March Twelfth

FULTON, Ky. — Contests in the fields of art, sewing, and music will be held at Fulton on March 12, sponsored by the First District of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs. The art and sewing contests will be held at First Methodist Church. The location for the music contest will be announced later. Lunch will be served to the contestants by the Fulton Woman's Club.

The art show is open to students in grades nine through 12, and any high school students of this area interested in entering work should contact Mrs. James Green. Should there be enough contestants from the area, an out-of-town judge will choose the selection to be entered in the show, as each Woman's Club in the district is allowed only one entry. Each student may submit only one entry.

All mediums are acceptable, and there are no restrictions as to subject. The size must not exceed 24 inches by 30 inches. Judging will be on the basis of originality, composition, and color. The winning entry will be entered in state-wide competition.

The sewing contest, open to high school girls, is to depict what the contestant considers the "Ideal Costume Dress-Up for High School Students," the costume to be for all occasions and not formal.

Each contestant may submit only one costume, which can be made from any pattern, combination of patterns, or of her own design, and entries will not be accepted from anyone who earns money through sewing. Adults may compete in the knitted costume division, which is also for amateurs only. Each Woman's Club may enter only one contestant.

Winners of both groups will compete in state judging in April. Winners will be decided on the basis of appropriateness of costume, becomingness to wearer, over-all fashion effect and workmanship.

The music contest, open to high school students, is for piano students only. Last year, entries from this district were in the field of instrumental music. A local elimination contest is expected to be held in order to determine the entry in the district meet.

Contestants for all these contests will be entered by Woman's Clubs which are members of the Kentucky Federation throughout the First District, and similar contests will be held in each district of the state. District winners will compete in April.

The campus queen and her court

Margaret Ann Butts, freshman in liberal arts of Murray, Ky., formerly of Weakley County, was named Miss UTMB in the annual campus beauty contest held Friday night, February 11. Chosen as members of her court are (standing l. to r.) Stephanie Kochy, fourth alternate, sophomore in home economics from Martin; Diane Shupe, third alternate, freshman in liberal arts from Nashville; Donna Ford, first alternate, freshman in education from Trenton; Annette Grissom, second alternate, senior in education from Selmer.

Misses Butts, Kochy and Ford all participated in last year's Banana Festival Princess Pageant.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

"Laughing Heirs"

The letter bore grim tidings: old Uncle Harvey had passed away. But as George read it, not a flicker of sorrow crossed his countenance. On the contrary, his only reaction was a whoop of delight at the news that he was the sole heir to $20,000.

George was not heartless. But the fact of the matter was that he and Uncle Harvey—actually, just a distant relative—had always disliked each other intensely. They had not even been on speaking terms for years.

The only reason the $20,000 was coming to George was that he was, technically, the next of kin. Since

Uncle Harvey had never bothered to make a will, the law automatically gave his money to the next of kin.

Are such ironies common? So common, alas, that lawyers have a special phrase to describe people like George: "laughing heirs."

Each year, property worth billions of dollars must necessarily change hands because of death. When there is no will, this wealth is transferred according to the rigid formulas of inheritance.

Although these formulas do try to be fair, all they can do as a practical matter is to follow the lines of kinship. What may have mattered most to the deceased—the ties of friendship, a sense of gratitude, the promptings of charity—cannot be weighed by a court after he is gone.

An added mockery is that the more remote the kinship, the more costly it may be to track down the heir and settle his rights.

Some states have tried to foil the laughing heir by cutting off all claims beyond a certain degree of kinship. That may help in a particular case, but then again it may not. For even a relative who is close in terms of kinship may be undeserving in every other way.

The real answer is for the individual to express his wishes and his wisdom before he dies. If you don't like the thought of some ungrateful heir chuckling over your demise, you can prevent it simply by exercising your will power—your power to make a will.

The tenth annual Kentucky Angus Sweepstakes Show and Sale will be held March 4 and 5 at the State Fairgrounds in Louisville. Bulls consigned to the show and sale will be shown and sold Friday. The females will be shown and sold on Saturdays.

On Friday evening, the Kentucky Angus Association will hold its annual business meeting. The meeting will follow a banquet, which will start at 6:30 p.m. in the Terrace Room of the Kentucky Hotel.

This will mark the 30th annual business meeting of the Angus Association, and all members are urged to be present. Too, the show and sale is one of the outstanding Angus events in the Nation, and all Angus breeders are invited and urged to attend.

March 1-7 is "Weights & Measures Week" in Kentucky.

While no organized activities are planned to mark its observance, I would hope that the public would be aware of the importance of equity in commercial transaction. Work in the field of weights and measures is handled by the Division of Weights and Measures in the Department of Agriculture.

Although this division is a part of the Department of Agriculture, much of its work is directed toward serving the consumer rather than the farmer or businessman. Throughout the year, some 30 inspectors test the accuracy of all commercial scales, gasoline pumps, meters, and other measuring devices. If a weighing or measuring device is found to be inaccurate, it must be promptly repaired or adjusted.

In addition to scales and measuring devices, the Division checks packaged commodities to see that they contain the represented amount. This work ranges from the package on the supermarket shelf to the bag of feed or fertilizer sold by the trading center.

These are just a few of the activities conducted by the Division of Weights and Measures. Regardless of the activity, it is designed to insure accuracy to both the buyer and the seller.

This year will mark the first time that a State supported show has been held for beef animal breeding classes. Elizabethtown has been selected as the site for this show, which is set for June 21. It will be held at the Hardin County Fairgrounds, and will be restricted to 4-H and FFA members.

The Department of Agriculture has, for a number of years, been sponsoring youth shows for steers. Many agricultural leaders have long felt the need for a show designed for beef breeding projects. We of the Department hope that the Elizabethtown event will meet the needs for a show of this type.

The show is being sponsored by the Elizabethtown-Hardin County Chamber of Commerce and the Hardin County Livestock Improvement Association. As with other youth shows, the University of Kentucky and the Division of Vocational Agricultural Education are cooperating with the Department of Agriculture in conducting this event.

Howard Baker Announces Candidacy For Senate

NASHVILLE — Howard Baker Jr., who in 1964 received the biggest Republican vote in Tennessee history, announced today that he will again this year seek the office of U.S. senator.

At a news conference, Baker announced he will seek the GOP nomination for senator on a moderately liberal platform, similar to that espoused by his late father, former 2nd District congressman.

Baker said he was for "victory and honorable peace" as U.S. policy in Viet Nam, in general for the anti-poverty program and for a strong civil rights platform. Of the latter, he said:

"There should never be any doubt about the rights of an individual to participate fully in American life, regardless of the color of his skin, creed or religion."

He said he was against the repeal of section 143 of the Taft-Hartley act, which permits Tennessee and other states to outlaw the union shop.

Sen. Ross Bass, whose seat Baker is seeking, has been a strong supporter of the repeal of the "right-to-work" provision of the labor law.

Baker's wife is the former Joy Dirksen, daughter of Senate Minority leader Everett Dirksen, R-Ill. His mother, Mrs. Irene Baker, served out the unexpired term of her late husband in Congress.

New Health Dept. Nurse

The Weakley County Health Department is happy to announce that Mrs. Charlotte Roberts has assumed her duties as Public Health Nurse for Weakley County.

Mrs. Roberts, a resident of Sharon, is the wife of Billy Wayne Roberts and the mother of three children. She received her training at Baptist Memorial Hospital in Memphis, following her graduation she worked for one year for a Chest surgeon followed by approximately four and one-half years of hospital work in Georgia and Tennessee.

Mrs. Roberts has just completed an eight week orientation in Public Health at the Gibson County Health Department in Trenton.

Little Children Should Never Be Left Alone

Never leave little children at home, even for a minute, warns the American Insurance Association.

More than 12,000 persons lost their lives in fires last year, and 2,100 of these were children under 16 years of age who were victims in home fires. Many times that number received burns in home fires.

The Association urges that if you must go out, make arrangements to have an adult or a capable teenager sit with the children until you return home. Also, make sure that at all times you keep matches out of the reach of small children, the Association adds.

Too many fires are caused by children playing with matches.

Ashtrays Should Be Kept in Every Room of the Home

As part of the 1966 Spring Clean-Up drive, householders throughout the nation were asked by the American Insurance Association to check the home ash tray situation.

If there are smokers in your house, the Association suggests you should have ash trays, and big ones, in every room.

Ash trays should be made of metal or glass, or some other fireproof material, and they should be emptied often. When emptying an ash tray, make sure the fire is out.

Every fifth fire in the United States is caused by matches and smoking.

David Francis Returns To State Position

FRANKFORT — J. David Francis' salary on the Public Service Commission will be $1,000 a year less than when he resigned about two months ago.

Gov. Edward T. Breathitt's office confirmed Friday Francis was named Wednesday to replace Freddie Nichols of Madisonville, who resigned Tuesday.

Before Francis resigned Dec. 20, he received $10,000 a year as chairman. He returns at $9,000, the pay for the other two PSC members. Breathitt's office said Woodrow Burchett of Prestonsburg will continue as chairman.

Francis gave no reason for his resignation, but there was speculation he would seek the Democratic nomination for U.S. senator in opposition to Sen. John Sherman Cooper.

PRaise FROM A PRO

Golfer Jack Nicklaus has to take long chances on the links, but the frequent title-winner intends to take no chances on his family's future. "I am now starting my own drive towards future security," says Jack. "And I can assure you that Savings Bonds will play a big part in reaching that goal."

LAST NOTICE To Fulton County Taxpayers:

The Tax Commissioner's office is now open for listing both real and personal property for state, county and school taxes for 1966.

On June 8, 1965, the Kentucky Court of Appeals rendered a decision that Section 172 of the Kentucky Constitution must be obeyed. The law, as stated in the Constitution, says that all property shall be assessed at a fair cash value, estimated at the price it would bring at a fair, voluntary sale. The listing date is between January 1 of each year. I feel a greater number of tax payers can contact me at the office, so I am urging you to come in between now and March 1 to discuss and list your property for 1966 taxes. If you do not do this, it is my responsibility to the state, county and schools, under KRS 132.450, to list your property from available records and such other evidence that I may be able to obtain. Since I would not like to do this, I urge each taxpayer to see me.
